Profile

Jane has worked as a case manager for 18 years, specialising in adults and children with ABI's, spinal injuries, amputees and sensory deficits. Jane also delivers a range of healthcare training/competence programmes to clients support teams.

Jane is a qualified nurse and lecturer, registered with the nursing and midwifery council since 1982. She started as a case manager having supported her own son who had a TBI when he was twelve. Jane continues to support adults and children who have complex needs due to ABI and spinal injuries. Jane has personal experience of supporting family and clients with amputations and require specialist ortho rehabilitation.

Jane has worked until recently as a care expert and continues to write nursing review reports, assisting financial deputies to identify care needs and payment of gratuitous care.

Jane has developed a range of training programmes, that assess competence of support workers undertaking nursing complex tasks such as PEG feeding, catheterisations and administering rescue medication.

Testimonial

"It is in no sense an overstatement to say that I consider that Jane is worth her weight in gold. She has no weaknesses. Her expertise, experience and wisdom is a reassuring presence and a source of great professional comfort in even the most challenging case. The thoroughness, rigour and compassion with which she safeguards and promotes the interests of her clients is remarkable. If all case managers were only half as good as Jane, the world would be a much better place." – Court of Protection Associate
